100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va. ; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number ; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing ; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing said fellow so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home.

Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with ; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held ; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,
Fairfax Court-House, Va.

Said mulatto man is about 23 years of age, 6 feet high, stout and well made, has lost the first joint of the fore finger on his left hand.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly : had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia ; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands ; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands ; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low, for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates, or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.

Please to apply at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge-street, Georgetown.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

A coroner's inquest was yesterday held upon the view of the body of HUGH COFFIN—verdict of the jury—" by injuries received on the head and other parts of the body, but whether by accident in falling down a bank on Water-street or otherwise, is to the jury unknown, from the evidence had before them."

Mr. SNOWDEN,

It is well known to the writer of this that a number of poor emigrants lately arrived in this place from England and Ireland, are literally in a state of starvation.—Many heads of families are destitute of bread to stifle the cries of their helpless, wretched, starving offspring—confined by disease to their miserable pallets, they are incapacitated from making any exertion to relieve the wants of their children. This appeal to the consideration of those who feel a pleasure in "going about doing good," will not, I hope, be disregarded.

CIVIS.

Washington, Sept. 24.

Strong apprehensions having been entertained for the safety of the U. S. schooner Hornet, in the terrible hurricane which proved so disastrous on the southern coast, in July last, we have the pleasure to state, that letters have been received from New-Orleans announcing the arrival of the schr. Hornet, Lieutenant Commandant James Ramage, at the anchorage of Pass Christian. The Hornet experienced, in the harbor of Pensacola, on the night of the 28th and morning of the 29th July, a tremendous easterly gale, which, with every thing down and four anchors ahead, she rode out in perfect safety. MILITARY ROAD.

We learn, by gentlemen from the section of country through which this road is opening, that the troops employed have been reinforced, and it is believed the road is already opened. We are not informed how far the lower end is completed. This road, when finished, will make the route from Nashville to Orleans about three hundred miles shorter than now travelled, and is therefore of the utmost importance to the western country. We understand much credit is due to the officers in command, for the handsome manner in which the road is opened. [Nashville Whig.

From the Democratic Press.

MR. BINNS—Though it is very well known in this city and vicinity that RYE is an excellent substitute for Coffee, it may not be generally known, and I wish it made as public as possible, since both health and economy are alike interested in the substitute being adopted. The Rye should be prepared by one quarter of an hours boiling—then dried and roasted—not burnt—Coffee is very apt to injure the head, causing a vertigo, in consequence of which, two of my family were obliged to relinquish the use of it, near two years since.—Rye has no injurious quality. A family of 8 persons will use 2 1-2 lbs. coffee a week, at breakfast alone; this at 30 cents per lb. gives 75 cents per week, or 39 dollars per annum. Rye is 80 cents per bushel, or 2 1-2 cents per quart; 3 pints will serve the same family for a week, leaving a balance of 71 cents per week, or 36 dollars 92 cents per year, in favor of the Rye!—Let us carry the calculation farther, and suppose there are 1.250,000 families in the United States, each of whom would save half the above sum, or 19 dollars yearly, by the use of Rye instead of coffee, (which calculation would be considerably within bounds,) we shall have a clear gain to the people of the U. States, of 23.750,000 dollars per annum. The best judges will be deceived by taking the Rye for Coffee, if properly made. After this, who will have the effrontery to complain of hard times, and continue the use of Coffee in his family?—Were congress to lay a heavy duty on the article of coffee, as well as many articles of manufactured goods, it would tend greatly to benefit the country.

HORSE TURNED THIEF

Friday, the 5th inst. Sargent, a constable of St. George's, made a complaint before the sitting magistrates, (Messrs. Bennet & Markland) at Shadwell Police Office, against a horse for stealing hay. The constable said, that the horse came regularly every night to the coach stand in St. George's, ate as much as he wished, and would then gallop away. He defied the whole of the parish officers to apprehend him, for if they attempted to go near him, while he was eating, he would throw up his heels and kick at them, or run at and bite them. One of the Magistrates, "Well, Mr. Constable, if you should be annoyed again by this body, in the execution of your duty, you may apprehend him, if you can, and bring him before us to answer your complaints" This novel case caused no little diversion. THE CITY OF TIMBUCTOO.

[From Lieut. Col. Fitzclarence's Journal.]

On returning from Alexandria in his Majesty's ship Tagus the author was a fellow passenger with Muly Ally and Muly Omar, two sons of the Emperor of Morocco, who had been on a pilgrimage to Mecca, under the charge of Hadjee Talub Ben Jelow, a successful merchant of immense property. He was mild and communicative, and imparted some very striking information relative to the celebrated city of Timbuctoo, of which the following account is given:

"But what has caused interest amongst us, is a discovery we have made that Hadjee Talub Ben Jelow, as well as several others on board, have been several times at Timbuctoo, on commercial speculations; and, as the governor is very communicative, he has answered a number of questions put to him by capt. Dundas and myself. As we were all aware of the diversity of opinions respecting the size and situation of that city, it was the first subject to which we drew his attention. Upon inquiring about Tombuctoo, the Hadjee laughed at our pronunciation, the name of the city being Timbuctoo; it is situated about two hour's journey from the great river. He says the king of Timbuctoo is a negro, and resides at Kabra, which is the port of Timbuctoo, being upon the Nijer. The houses, he states, are low and mean; the inhabitants have no shops, but there are stalls for selling the necessaries of life under leather tents. The habitations are built of clay and loose stones, though some of them must be two stories high, from their having stairs. He says there are mosques at Timbuctoo, which agrees with the evidence of Hadjee Benata, who asserts that there are Mahometans there; and some of "no religion at all;" while Hadjee Talub's account is, that all religions are tolerated. The majority of the inhabitants are, according to his description, negroes. The cow at Timbuctoo has a hump upon its shoulder, and appears rather larger than the Indian cow, these the natives ride on. In 1807 the king's name was Boobkier, that of the queen Fatima; the dress of the latter is represented to be a short blue petticoat with a stripe of lace; his was said to have cost 100 dollars at Timbuctoo.

"With respect to the Nijer, he states that it runs towards the east, or as he terms it, towards Mecca. He has invariably called it the Nile, but another person on board, of the name of Hadjee Benata, (whose bad state of health for a length of time, prevented our gaining much information from him) calls it Dan, but confirms the interesting fact which was so long contested, of the river running to the east. The Nijer is reported to be a quarter of a mile broad at Kabra, but in the summer it is much more considerable. Hadjee Talub has understood that the river runs into a large fresh water sea in the interior of the country, which he calls Behur Soldan, that from this sea the Nile of Egypt takes its rise, so that he calls it the same river; and that half way to Cairo there are great falls and cataracts, which prevent boats from passing.—This account of the source of the Nile, may, however, be reasonably doubted. The boats on the river are of a middling size, flat bottomed, having no sails, and being constructed without nails. They are formed of the bark of trees, and some of them are as large as a frigate launch, or about 28 feet long. Our informant, Hadjee Talub, adds, that crocodiles abound in the river, are very voracious, and are taken by being harpooned with an instrument with five prongs.—There are vast quantities of fish in the Nijer, which, from their color and size, are supposed to be salmon. Hadjee Benata states, that Timbuctoo is three times the size of Alexandria; and Hadjee Talub conceives the population to be about 60,000, and represents their character as being good and friendly, though he has heard of people being shot for theft, and of offenders being beat on the back with the skin of an animal dried and cut into thongs.—He says there are cocoa nuts and dates in abundance, and water melons in great plenty, but all grow wild, there being no garden whatever. The woods in the neighborhood of Timbuctoo, are described as being full of game, and lions and beasts of prey are often seen in the neighborhood of the town.—Hares and rabbits are in vast quantities; and the only dog they have is a greyhound, which is trained to catch these animals; cats they have none. The city is well supplied with every kind of provisions, and it is customary for the natives to eat elephants' flesh, which animal is stated to exist in immense herds in the vicinity. Their flesh appeared palatable to Hadjee Talub, tasting like beef, but being quite white. They are ferocious animals, and will attack single persons, which obliges men who ride alone to carry a horn to frighten them away. There are two methods of hunting the elephants, one by driving them into the river, where men by swimming, get on their backs, and cut and destroy them; the other, by driving them into pits, and butchering them: a few are tamed.

"As to their commerce, it is carried on between Fez and Timbuctoo, generally by caravans, which leave the former place in March and October, as does that of Mecca at the same season. The articles which sell best at Timbuctoo, are salt, tobacco, European scarlet cloth, and English printed cottons, besides pistols and guns. This traffic returns elephants' teeths, (of which two are so large as to be a load for a camel,) slaves and gold.—The gold is generally in small bags, in each of which is an ounce valued at fifteen dollars; it is extremely pure and fine; they have also pieces of gold weighing about five ounces.—This precious article is very common, and comes from the south-west, where it is found in great quantities. The negroes wear bracelets and other ornaments of this metal, and Hadjee has presented Captain Dundas with some gold articles, consisting of part of a necklace, a pair of ear-rings, and some braids for the hair, similar to the filagree work of the Archipelago of the Eastern Seas; which he states that the workmen manufactured as they do in Java and Sumatra, in the house of their employer, by whom they are hired like journeymen. The price of a male slave is from sixteen to twenty dollars.

"He speaks of a tribe called Shullahs, who are a savage race, living in leather tents, and of a warlike and brave spirit.—They are armed with a long sword, sharp on both sides, though some of them carry a javelin. For defences they have a shield made of leather, about five feet long and four broad, which covers their whole person. Their dress consists of a blue shirt and white trowsers.—He represents the women as being very fat, and having a protuberance behind like the Hottentot women of whom we have heard so much.—The Shullahs receive a certain tribute from the negroes of Timbuctoo, and never cross the river. During the summer they remain two day's journey to the east, but in winter come close to the city. The women perform all the agricultural labors in the field.

"We made enquiries respecting the caravans from Fez to Timbuctoo and from Timbuctoo in various other directions. He says he travelled by the regular caravan in three months and ten days from Fez to Timbuctoo, but the year after he went the same journey with a guide and two guards in twenty-nine days, on a herrie, performing four day's journey in one. There is no want of water during the winter time, but hordes of Arabs attack travellers at that season. The herrie is mentioned as being the fleetest animal that can be conceived: it is like a dromedary, but is as superior in speed to the generality, as a race horse is to a cart horse.

"There runs a tradition that there was at one time a regular caravan from Timbuctoo direct to Cairo, but the distracted state of the country has of late rendered it so unsafe as to prevent it altogether. Indeed as the Shullahs accompanied the caravan from Fez to Mecca, having come from Timuctoo for that purpose Capt. Dundas thinks, in which Hadjee Talub agrees with him, that there is no direct communication between that city and Cairo.—With respect to intercourse toward the east and south-east our traveller speaks of Houssa being a considerable city, but at such a distance from Timbuctoo that the latter city is only half-way between it and Fez. It is described to be a place of great traffic, here the cloth used by the inhabitants of Timbuctoo is manufactured.—Neither he nor Hadjee Benata know any thing of Wassana, although they are acquainted with a large place, twenty days' journey south east from Timbuctoo called Massan.——Indeed the latter states that his mother came from thence. Beyond this place, to the south east, are a people who eat their prisoners.

"During our various conversations, Hadjee Talb mentioned, that eleven years ago, in 1807, when at Timbuctoo, he heard of two white men, who came from the sea, having been near that city. This was the year before he arrived at Timbuctoo, and he understood that the white men sold beads, as they had no money to purchase grain. He adds, that they went down the Nile to the eastward, and that general report stated that they had died of the climate. This appeared to Capt. Dundas and myself to allude to and certainly all circumstances tend to prove, that these persons were Mr. Park and Lieutenant Martyn who would have arrived there about that period. However, the pacific conduct and friendly intercourse mentioned by Hadjee Talb disagrees with the journal of Amadi Fatuma, who speaks of hostility taking place off Timbuctoo, which is not on the Nijer: and in what regards the fate of these gentlemen, they differ as to the mode of their death.

It was natural that we should attempt to ascertain if it was practicable for a Frank to pass from Fez to Timbuctoo, and if he bought the Emperor of Morocco would assist the views of any Englishmen in reaching that city, which he answered with the greatest confidence in the affirmative As to any danger with the caravan, he expressed a conviction that there is not the slightest; but singly, he thinks that great risks would be hazarded. I further asked him, whether, if duly rewarded, he would accompany me to Timbuctoo, to which he assented with the utmost readiness; and added, that we could reach that city in forty-seven days from Fez on horseback, and that he would forfeit his life if he did not bring me back safe.

I conceive from this, from the universal renown of our nation, and from the friendly terms on which we stand with all the world, that a British agent properly accredited, and his objects fairly stated, namely commerce and rational curiosity, could not fail of being not only safe, but well received, and put in a situation to solve the great geographical problem of the course and termination of the Niger.

EGYPT.

The vice roy Mohammed Ali Pacha, conceived the design of digging a navigable canal from the Nile to Alexandria by means of which large boats might be enabled to convey merchandize directly to Cairo, independent of the changeableness of the weather which often impeded their progress to Rosetta, and rendered the entrance of the Nile impassable.

The works commenced in October last—and their superintendance is committed to Mohammed Bey, who had the command of 300 troops destined to preserve order amongst the workmen, collected from the country, who are changed once a month. The waters of the Nile having increased more than had been expected, the labors were suspended, and recommenced in the month of December. The workmen were augmented 30,000—at present, the whole number employed amounts to 270,000 persons. The genius and activity of Ali Pacha promised to conduct this enterprise, so useful to commerce, in a short time to a glorious issue. The workmen are divided into eight divisions; at the head of each is a Bey, with a certain number of troops.

Besides these, Ishmael Pacha, with a corps of cavalry, patroles incessantly the whole line of divisions, to inspect the workmen and animate them in the performance of their labors. The length of the canal is to be 45 miles, its breadth 90 feet; but its depth has not been yet decided. Besides the Turkish engineers, several foreigners are also employed, among whom is Don Carlo Billotte, a Neapolitan.

A match at cricket was played at Marchwood, England, between 11 single and 11 married women of that place, which was won by the former, by a considerable number runs.—Thousands of spectators assembled on the ground, amongst whom were some of the first respectability and fashion, to witness this singular contest.

WHEREAS, JILSON DOVE, of the county of Alexandria, hath, by his petition in writing, applied to the honorable William Cranch, chief judge of the district of Columbia, to be admitted to the benefit of the act of congress for the relief of insolvent debtors within the district of Columbia aforesaid; and has stated therein, that he is in actual confinement in the jail of Alexandria county, at the suit of William H. Hannon, and being unable to discharge the said claim, with others against him, has offered to deliver up to the use of his creditors, all his property, real, personal and mixed.—Notice is therefore given to the creditors of the said Jilson Dove, that on the first Monday in October next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court-house in Alexandria, the oath of an insolvent debtor will be administered to the said Jilson Dove, and a trustee appointed, agreeably to the said act of Congress, unless cause to be then and there shewn to the contrary.

By order of the honorable Wm. Cranch, Chief Judge of the District of Columbia, this 21st day of September, 1819.

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington,
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria,
Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria,
Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines. But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
